American Beauties Face Busy Days

SOMEBODY'S WRONG somewhere, because this picture shows 54 girls in Atlantic City, N. J., all decked out for "Miss America" competition. But word is only 52 are in the contest—from 45 states, four cities, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada. Anyhow, they all look mighty choice. (International)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Hopeful, hard-working Miss America contestants face a busy time of it today in preparation for the second round of preliminary contests.

The 52 beauties culled from the cream of the nation's crop begin their day at 9:45 A. M., when they leave their hotels for a breakfast conference with contest judges.

They must get the sleep out of their eyes and be on their toes—

Turnpike Commission Is Selected for Ohio

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Four men will get authority today to supervise construction of toll superhighways in Ohio.

The first super-road is expected to cross over Ohio and link with a proposed extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike at the Ohio border.

The four members of the newly created turnpike commission will receive their certificates of appointment from Governor Frank J. Lausche in ceremonies at the chief executive's office.

Members of the commission are James W. Shocknessy of Columbus, O. L. Teagarden of Oak Harbor, J. Gordon McKay of Cleveland, and Murray Seasongood of Cincinnati.

The commissioners are to organize immediately after receiving their certificates and choose one of their own group as chairman.

At subsequent meetings the commission will employ such engineering and other expert aid as

The mystery of the eerie floating light has been solved—in part at least.

Bill Himmelsbach first told about a "pinkish light" moving up and down over the William M. Campbell field on the Greenfield Pike Tuesday night. He was so intrigued that he stopped and watched from the Wilson School for about 10 minutes and then drove on to his home here from Greenfield where he had been at his studio. Wednesday, his curiosity was still nagging him.

A piece about Bill's curiosity—not to mention that of many other motorists who slowed down or stopped just as he did—was posted on this pillar Tuesday evening.

Less than an hour after the Record-Herald hit the streets and homes, Jack Boylan came into the office with a big grin. Jack, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boylan of South Main Street, said he and Rod Beaver had seen the light, too. But, with typical teenage curiosity, they did something about it. Just what is not exactly clear, however.

They were coming back from Greenfield, Jack said, when they noticed the light. Before they came on home, they learned it was a flare on the tail of a kite. That was satisfied and relieved by it anyway. He said he had been taking a lot of ribbing over his story from friends and was glad to have it substantiated.

What Jack and Rod did not reveal, however, was how they found out the light was on a kite tail. Jack only grinned when asked to elaborate.

He admitted they did not find out who was flying the kite.

Now, I suppose there will be others who saw the light offer to clear up the mystery—and their offers will be appreciated. But, since Jack was the first, we'll just close the incident with his story.

That is, we'll close it unless someone knows who was holding the kite string.

Polio in Ohio Is Worst Yet

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Ohio is heading toward a record polio season, the state health director said today.

"There is no doubt this will be the year of all years," said Dr. John D. Porterfield.

The director said the rate of increase showed no signs of slowing, "although this is the season when the rate should slow."

Forty-four new cases brought the state's polio total to 1,044—nearly twice the number of cases reported on this date last year.

The case total in 1948 was 577, and in 1947 was 386. The all-time total was 1,480 set in 1947.

New West German Parliament Is Off To Tempestuous Start

BONN, Germany, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Only 24 hours after it got down to business, West Germany's parliament appeared to be off to a stormy start.

The deep antagonism between parties which was revealed in the August election campaign flared again during yesterday's opening ceremonies.

The first session gave little indication that the 402 members of the Bundestag (lower House) would work in unison in the task of rebuilding Germany.

"I hope to keep the debates on a dignified plane, but it may be a difficult task," Dr. Erich Koehler, president of the Bundestag, said.

Rivalry between Conservative Christian Democratic party (CDU) and the Leftist Social Democrats (SPD) appeared as strong as ever.

A socialist proposal for a moment of silence in memory of German socialists who lost their lives opposing Hitler drew a complaint from right-wingers that testament—pick up their charges at Convention Hall. Their afternoons are free for sightseeing or resting. But no dates. Contest rules don't allow it.

Next on the agenda comes dinner, and the tension begins to mount. Tonight may be the night, each of the beauties hopes, that will bring her the points to make her a finalist.

The rewards are great. Miss America of 1949 will get a $5,000 scholarship. The retiring Miss America, Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn., reportedly picked up an additional $50,000 in personal appearances during the last year. Another $20,000 in scholarships goes to the runners-up.

In the first preliminary last night, Miss Arizona and Miss California tied for first place in the bathing suit division. They are Jacques Mercer, 18, of Litchfield, Ariz., and 19-year-old June Ann Pederson of Santa Rosa, Calif.

Sultry violin renditions of gypsy airs won hands down in the talent division for Gloria Yvonne Burkhardt, 19, Miss Minnesota.

Constable Is Tough In War on Gambling

IRONTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Lawrence County's slot machine-busting constable promised today he's going to try to run gamblers in his bailiwick out of business.

Said Constable Joe Rigney: "Conditions are getting real bad and I'm going to run them (the gamblers) out of business. There are slot machines and a lot of other gambling. I just aim to go in and tear 'em up. Nobody else has ever done anything about it."

Constable Rigney spoke after a hearing for a tavern operator Rigney charged with firing three shots through a door at him when he called at the club early yesterday.

James Tost, 40, operator of the Parrot Club on state route 7 near Protocville was held for grand jury action under a $500 bond on the shooting charge.

He was fined $100 and costs after he pleaded guilty to selling whisky in dry territory.

Darke County School Is Closed by Polio

GREENVILLE, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The doors of Jackson Township schools in western Darke County closed yesterday when parents of 90 of 250 pupils kept their youngsters at home because of the county's polio outbreak which has taken nine lives since June 30. No date has been set for reopening of the school.

'Welfare State' Opposition Key To GOP Drive

'Statism' Slogan To Be Used in Coming Campaign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Republicans are picking up the word "statism" as the party's unofficial battle-cry against the Democrats' "fair-deal" program.

Some Republicans want their party to make the fight against "statism"—or a social welfare state—the basic issue in all major elections. They charge that what President Truman calls his "fair deal" program is leading the country toward greater and greater state control over every man, woman and child.

Republican Floor Leader Wherry of Nebraska has asked GOP policy makers to take an official party stand on this issue.

"We've got to fight statism, the social welfare government, or whatever you wish to call it," Wherry told a reporter. "Government economy and opposition to statism are two issues every Republican can agree on."

Other Republicans agreed with Wherry. But Democratic leaders hooted at the idea that "statism" can be made a political campaign issue.

President Truman in a speech last Monday called the cry of "statism" one of several "trumped-up slogans" fostered by those who would frighten people in higher income groups.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois said: "It's just another slogan. The Republicans originate a new one every campaign. But they can't win on a slogan. The people want something constructive as we have given them."

Charges of "statism"—generally hurled as an epithet at the Democratic administration -- are creeping more and more into public speeches by prominent people.

James F. Byrnes, former Democratic secretary of state, first used the word last spring when he warned against the growing power.

Composer Strauss Dies at Age of 85

GARMISCH PARKENKIRCHEN, Germany, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Richard Strauss, one of the world's greatest contemporary composers, died today. He was 85.

His genius ran the gamut of musical expression from simple songs and chamber music to symphonic poems, symphonies and operas. "Der Rosenkavalier" and his impressionistic opera "Salome" are among his most popular works.

He was a musical prodigy at the age of four and began composing when he was six. At 12 his Opus No. 1, a "festmarsch" for orchestra was before the public.

Impressionistic expressions in tone from which Strauss composed in middle life were the subject of critical debate. He lived to see many of his innovations become almost commonplace musical devices.

His tone poems, "Till Eulenspiegel," "Don Quixote," and "Don Juan" are popular with symphonic audiences throughout the world. He composed "Salome" in 1904 and produced the opera "Elektra" three years later. Both works were widely known in America.

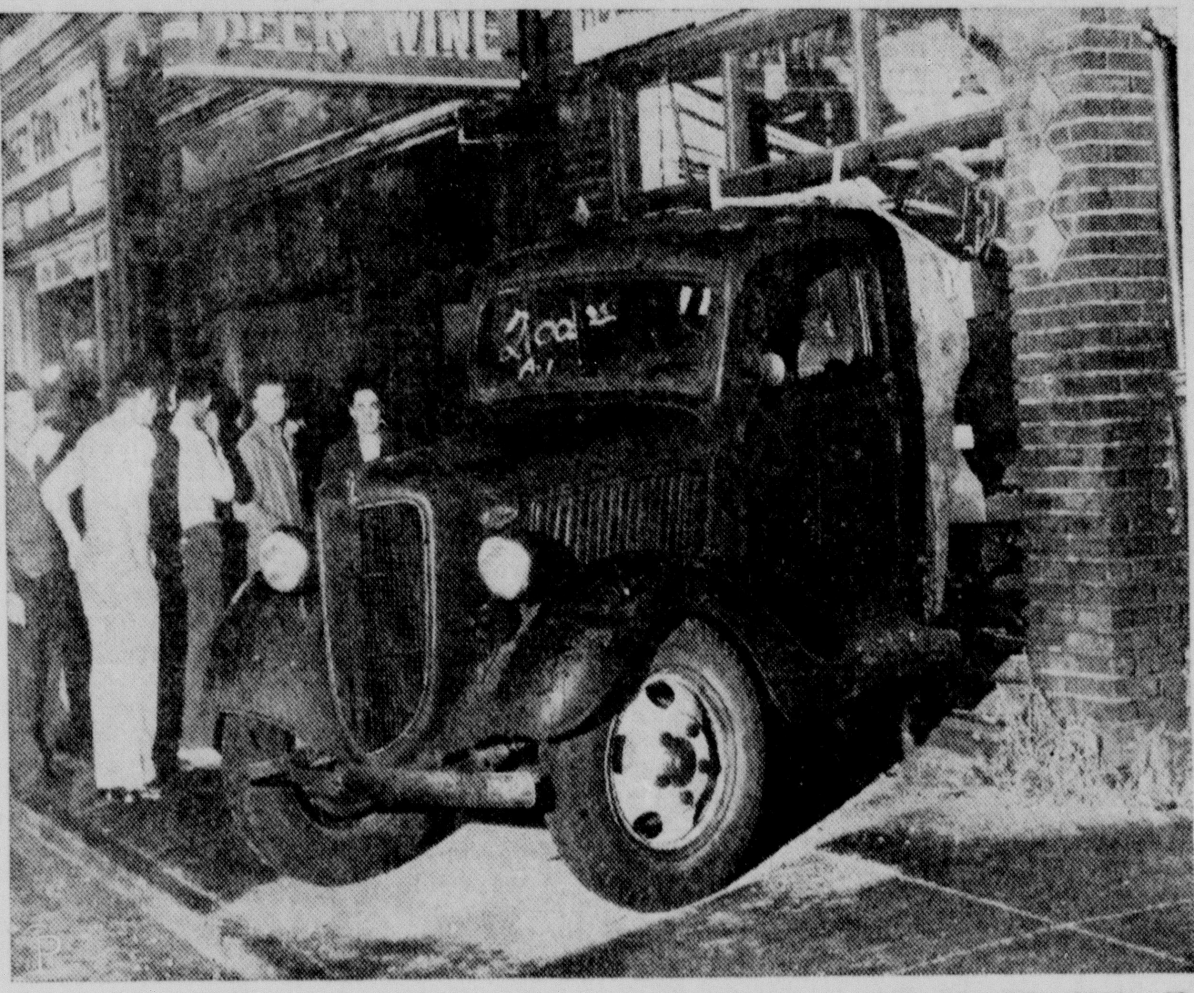

"Tod Und Verklarung" (death and transfiguration) a tone poem written in 1889 is regarded by many as one of his greatest works.

Mass Killer Put in Insane Asylum

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Wilson—whose death yesterday raised the toll in Tuesday's River Road massacre to 13—appeared at Unruh's room in the same hospital. Unruh was under treatment for a bullet wound of the hip.

The Wilson boy's relative, detectives said, declared "I'm going to get him." The man—whose identity was not disclosed—was restrained and led away.

Authorities declined to comment on whether the incident had any connection with Unruh's sudden transfer which was not announced until after it had been completed.

Employment Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The number of jobholders hit a 1949 peak of 59,947,000 in August, while the total of idle workers dropped more than 400,000, the census bureau said today.

The bureau's report showed that unemployment dipped to 3,689,000. It had risen in July to 4,095,000, the highest level since 1942.

The report, eagerly awaited as a clue to "improving economic conditions, revealed a marked increase in factory and other non-farm employment.

Berserk War Veteran Killed After Wrecking Restaurant

SUFFERN, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(AP)—A New York advertising executive, who was medically discharged from the marines, was shot and killed early today when he went berserk in a restaurant. Three persons were injured.

Crouse was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital with a fractured skull after Graves had hit him with a metal chair, police said. Two other persons, not immediately identified, were treated for injuries suffered in the fracas.

Police reported the following: Graves, who served in the marine corps in 1942 and 1943 and received a medical discharge, was staying with friends near Suffern. His wife and two children were with him.

Success Achieved In Animal Cancers

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Institutum Divi Thomae, a non-profit research organization, announced yesterday that internal cancers in animals have been treated successfully by a preparation developed by the organization.

The institutum's 10th annual conference heard the report which described the preparation only as "made of spleen pulp."

The treatments have been carried out only on animals and not on humans, said Dr. Leo C. Nutini, head of the institutum's experimental division.

Britain Wants Strings Cut On Dollar Spending

International Trade Forms Background Of 3-Power Confab

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The three-power conference on the British financial crisis today set up a special committee to go into Britain's request for more freedom in spending ECA dollars outside the United States.

It was learned Britain has told the United States that unless changes are made in present Marshall Plan operations they will have to spend several hundred million more dollars out of their dwindling reserves.

The decision of the American, British and Canadian cabinet ministers to make a special study of the whole question of the use of ECA funds was one of four decisions made today.

Three Key Problems

Special groups were also assigned to work on the following three problems:

1. Commodities and stockpiling: Britain has told the United States on this point that a speedy use of American funds for stockpiling strategic materials such as rubber and tin would assist the British government in increasing its dollar earnings. Those materials are produced in areas which do their trading in the British pound sterling.

2. Customs procedure: Both Britain and Canada have repeatedly complained to the American government that its customs procedures are so cumbersome and old-fashioned that foreign export—

Loan Approved To Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Diplomatic officials said today they understood the export-import bank has approved a multi-million dollar loan to Yugoslavia.

The amount was reported to be around $20,000,000. The money would be used mainly to buy machinery and equipment needed by Yugoslav copper, lead and zinc mines.

The credit would be the first direct American loan to the Yugoslav government since Marshal Tito broke with Moscow about 15 months ago.

Yugoslavia has been pressing an application for a loan for about three weeks.

Secretary of State Acheson is known to have strongly supported the application. He argued that it was a "calculated risk" necessary to bolster Yugoslavia's economy and strengthen Tito as a symbol of independence from Moscow's orders.

Ohio Church Unity Program Launched

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Rev. W. Henry Shillington, new executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, was hard at work today on a major job.

His task: uniting of all Ohio's protestant churches.

The soft-spoken Methodist minister took over his new post eight days ago, succeeding Dr. B. F. Lamb who last January became president of the organization.

Rev. Shillington's first step in his task, he said here today, was to call for a committee of church officials throughout the state in order to discuss launching of a department of evangelism.

The committee, under chairmanship of Bishop A. R. Clippinger of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, will meet here with Rev. Shillington Oct. 9. Methodist Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Columbus also is a committee member.

Kroger Wages Hiked

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Weekly wage increases of from $1 to $5 will be received by 1,100 clerks and meat cutters employed by the Cincinnati branch stores of the Kroger Co. under terms of an agreement ratified yesterday by two AFL unions. The wage increases are retroactive to last May 1.

HONG KONG, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A typhoon with winds up to 100 miles an hour lashed Hong Kong for four hours today but caused no appreciable damage.

Less Accidents During 1949

Costs Are $9,000,000 Less Than Last Year

"Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot," cautioned J. C. Hiestand, president of the Ohio Safety Council, as the hunting season approaches.

This advice followed a report from the safety council that revealed a reduction of 9.3 percent in fatal accidents during the first half of this year. This was 236 fewer than for the same period in 1948.

Hiestand reported that accident losses for the first six months of 1949 were almost nine million dollars below the costs of the same period last year, but said the best feature of the statistics was the saving of life and limb.

There was a reduction of over 9 percent in home fatalities, while public accidents where no motor vehicles were involved dropped 16 percent.

Auto accidents increased where non-collision cases and crashes into fixed objects were concerned.

"Loss of control" and excessive speed were two of the reasons.

Hiestand said that this type of accident would be reduced if cars were maintained in good condition and if the drivers would remember that the posted speed limits are the maximum safe speeds.

The alarming number of firearms mishaps in the home has surpassed last year's total by a wide margin and brought the request for caution as hunters start cleaning their weapons.

Football Abolished And Pupils Stay Out

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Most of Hazle Township High School's 530 students today refused to go to classes for the second straight day in protest of a school board order abolishing football.

An estimated 300 students, carrying signs "no sports--no school" and "township unfair to students" paraded again in this eastern Pennsylvania anthracite city.

Student leaders said only a few freshmen attended classes this morning.

Vincent Boyle, a teacher, told the board he would not continue coaching football and basketball unless he receives extra pay. He said he's coached the two sports without compensation for 15 years. He asked $400 additional pay a year for coaching each sport.

The board refused -- and then discontinued football.

Father Shoots Son In Row Over Car

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Charles Shriver, 19, remained in critical condition today after he was shot in the left temple and critically wounded last night by his father who later killed himself with a shotgun blast.

Sheriff John H. Steele of Guernsey County reported Howard Shriver, 44, shot his son, father of a 19-month-old daughter, with a .38 caliber automatic pistol during a quarrel over the use of a jointly owned automobile. The elder Shriver then killed himself with a 12-gauge shotgun, Steele said.

from Graves' friends asking what steps were necessary to have Graves committed to Rockland State Hospital.

A local physician, Dr. Burton August, was summoned. He said Graves should be committed immediately to the hospital for observation.

At that moment Graves ran out of the house, leaped in the family car, and sped away.

He went to a dinette on LaFayette Avenue, Suffern, and demanded a bottle of beer.

When the counterman refused to serve him, Graves threw a sugar bowl at him. Then he threw a cash register through a glass door.

A taxi driver jumped out a window and ran to the police station, returning with Lt. Crouse.

When Crouse was unable to reason with Graves, he fired a shot over his head. Graves hit him over the head with a metal chair, knocking Crouse to the floor.

Crouse fired one shot, hitting Graves in the leg, but Graves kept on coming at him. Then Crouse shot him in the stomach. Graves died immediately.

to work by encouraging heavier American investments in foreign countries.

The announcement of the work at today's session—the third meeting of the conference which opened yesterday—was made by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, the chief American delegate, in a news conference at the State Department, where the meetings are being held.

Snyder said that Paul Hoffman, the ECA administrator, and Averell Harriman, the ECA ambassador in western Europe, considerably broadened the subject of Britain's dollar earnings at this morning's session to include the problem of dollar earnings of all the ECA countries.

Hoffman, Snyder said, took the same line in the closed meetings with Cripps and the other conferees that he has taken in public statements in recent weeks—advocating better British sales techniques and the development of goods appealing to Americans at a competitive cost.

Asked whether devaluation of the British pound has come up, Snyder said he would not discuss devaluation publicly "at any time." Pressed on the point, he sharply replied "let's drop that and go on to something else."

In the case of the committee on "ECA eligibility" Snyder confirmed in response to questions that the work of this committee would cover the proposal to give the British greater freedom—they would like complete freedom—in spending Marshall Plan dollars

Cripps has not specified how the United States might go about enlarging its markets for British goods.

Presumably he has in mind drastic tariff reductions as a long range step by the United States to help Britain earn the dollars that are necessary to enable it to pay its own way in the world again.

Cripps focused virtually his whole case for American aid in stabilizing Britain's finances on his request to "enlarge our opportunities of earning" dollars.

He made the same appeal to Canada. Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, backing up Cripps' request for readjustments in basic American economic policy, declared that Canada stands ready to do what it can in the recent world situation.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A timid rally toward the close gave the grain market a steady appearance today. Prior to the late advance the market had moved about without getting anywhere.

The late buying was touched off by reports of cash dealers that the Commodity Credit Corporation was willing to buy cash wheat at 10 1/2 cents a bushel over the Chicago September future for delivery at Philadelphia. This represented an advance of two cents from the previous buying price.

Soybeans and lard inclined to lag on the late advance, although recovering early losses. Selling in these commodities followed weakness in cottonseed oil futures at New York.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—(AP)—Talks begin here today on the British dollar crisis. Taking part are some top officials of the United States, Canada and Britain.

What is the crisis? The British are running out of American dollars which they badly need for buying American goods. But the British are not looking for another loan.

The talks aim at this: to work out some way by which Britain won't have to use up so fast the dollars it has. No one expects a miracle solution.

At this moment the problem is to find a stop-gap way of getting British out of its jam. How did it get into the jam? There is no single answer. There are a number of answers. Here are some:

Remember that the U. S. and Canada do business with dollars. Britain's money is the pound. When Americans and Canadians sell to the British, they want to be paid in dollars.

So, having dollars is part of Britain's life blood since she needs to buy more from the U. S. and Canada than they have to buy from her.

Britain was short of dollars after the war, since it used up so many of them buying war supplies from the U. S. and Canada gave Britain loans. The U. S. even helped out with the Marshall Plan.

But now Britain is running short of dollars again. Why? For one thing, Britain hasn't been selling enough goods to the dollar nations to get dollars with which to buy from them in turn.

Before the war, Britain has several ways of gathering in dollars. For instance:

1. It had a lot of holdings in the dollar countries, giving Britain a big and steady income in dollars. During the war, to scrape up dollars to buy huge supplies, Britain sold many of its American holdings.

Britons figure now that — if they hadn't had to sell those holdings — they'd be getting from them an income of around $2,000,000,000 a year. So, that's two billions Britain could use now but doesn't have.

2. It picked up a lot of revenue from its shipping. But much of that was shot to pieces in the war. So — another dollar source weakened.

3. Britain has not been self-sufficient. It has had to import to live. It ran the imported goods through its factories and then sold the manufactured items abroad at a profit to buy other things it needed. This gave the British dollars, too.

Much of its machinery is out of date and it costs more to make a lot of items than it does in this country. That's a stumbling block to selling British goods here.

The U. S.-Canadian and British trade is out of balance. As noted, Britain needs to buy far more from us than we need from her. This buying from us — more buying than selling — uses up Britain's dollar supply, also. Britain is linked with a lot of other countries in what is called the "Sterling Bloc."

Those bloc countries, including Britain, use the pound as their money in trading with one another. But, when they want to buy from the U. S., they need dollars. Where have they been getting the dollars? A big chunk of them from Britain.

Why from Britain if Britain is short of dollars herself? During the war, when Britain needed dollars so badly, it worked out a deal with its partners in the Sterling Bloc.

Instead of paying them off in dollars for the things it bought from them, it gave them credit for dollars to be drawn on later. So now, when one of them wants to buy from America, it tells Britain to shell out dollars.

By the end of 1946 Britain had about $1-2 billion in dollar reserves. Slowly, by having to buy from us more than it sold us, plus the drain on its dollar

No Waiting List For Gas Heating Units Here Now

Most Restrictions On Conversion Are Lifted by State

When the Ohio State Utilities Commission lifted virtually all restrictions on conversion of heating units for natural gas, it did not materially increase the number of customers here who will turn to gas for their heat, it was stated Thursday by A. E. Weatherly, manager of the Washington C. H. district of the Dayton Power and Light Co.

Weatherly said that as result of allocations made at various times, there is now no waiting list of patrons who have applied for gas for heating purposes.

He also said the work of converting the central heating service to a gas heating service is moving forward satisfactorily, and that some already have changed to gas heating units, and many more would follow as soon as contractors can get to the jobs.

In an order declaring Ohio's gas companies have virtually solved the gas shortage, the PUCO ruled the companies, with two exceptions, are to furnish gas for heating to all who request it.

The order becomes effective when it is filed with the secretary of state, either today or tomorrow.

The exceptions are the Toledo Edison Co., and the Ohio Gas Co. of Bryan. Harold L. Mason, chairman of the PUCO, said the two utilities "did not feel they had an ample supply of gas," to take on an unlimited number of new customers.

A further hearing on the status of the two utilities was scheduled for Nov. 15.

In effect, the PUCO's latest edict said gas companies must supply gas for heating to all those who want it in the areas they serve.

If existing facilities are not adequate to supply the applicant, the company must notify the applicant to that effect, and correct the inadequacy "within a reasonable time."

If the applicant does not hear from the gas company within 15 days, he will be free to have a gas heating unit installed.

PUCO orders restricting the number of new customers for gas heating that a utility could take on have been in effect about two years. Today's order, in effect, leaves the responsibility of taking on additional consumers up to the company.

Under the order, Ohio's gas companies must make semi-annual reports on Nov. 15 and May 15 each year, stating their estimates of the gas supply available and the number of space heating units attached to their lines.

Mason said that in event of a gas shortage during a severe winter industrial users would, as in previous years, be the first to have to curtail use of gas.

Socialized Medicine To Be Topic for Moose

A large turnout of men and women of the Moose is expected for the talk on socialized medicine by Mrs. N. M. Reiff at this Friday's meeting.

Mrs. Reiff, wife of Dr. N. M. Reiff, will speak on a program scheduled to begin at 8:30 P. M. at the Moose Hall, 244 East Court Street.

supply by the Sterling Bloc, Britain's dollar supply went down.

Now its supply is around $1,600,000,000. The British figure they need a minimum of $2,000,000,000 to be on safe ground. Unless some solution is worked out at these Washington talks, Britain's dollars will dwindle some more.

Farmers Have More Cash Than Ever Before, Bankers Say; Financial Position Is Sound

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—(AP)—American farmers have more ready cash than ever before, the American Bankers Association said.

And they haven't borrowed heavily either.

This was determined in a survey by the association's agricultural commission which said:

"Although American farmers have spent millions of dollars for improvements, soil conservation and the purchase of new equipment since the war's end, farm debt has made no significant increase. And savings in cash, bank deposits and United States savings bonds are at record levels."

The report said: "Farm families are going through these final months of adjustment from a war to a peacetime economy with very little disturbance. They are maintaining a sound financial position; and while they are using more credit for improvements and new equipment, their obligations are being paid off in relatively short time, and they are adding to their already substantial financial reserves."

Farm debt held by banks at the beginning of this year was about $2,700,000,000, the report showed, as against $2,300,000,000 a year before.

Last year 12,438 banks loaned $5,046,504,000 to 2,679,484 farmers, mostly to finance production, and only $1,889,032,000 of this remained unpaid at the end of the year, the survey said.

Charles T. O'Neill of Charlottesville, Va., chairman of the commission, said: "Farm mortgage debt remains only about one-half of what it was in a comparable period after World War I."

"Farm borrowings are usually a reliable indicator of the economic condition of agriculture. One of the brightest aspects of the present situation is the fact that the average loan per borrower during 1948 for production purposes was only $1,845 and the average loan made on farm real estate was only $2,325."

"Cash reserves held by the farmers are being consistently increased and are estimated to be sufficient to retire all farm debt. However, the farmers are wisely holding the reserves as a safeguard against emergencies and to enable them to buy new equipment and make improvements."

"The big demand for new equipment to replace that worn out during the war years appears to have been satisfied. There is a nationwide trend among farmers to improve livestock and crops

Local Investment Specialist Says Planned Program Best in Long Run

According to W. J. Richardson, of Bexley, Columbus, investment expert associated with the firm of E. H. Rollins & Sons, Inc., of Philadelphia, investors today are confronted more than ever with a serious and perplexing problem in trying to invest their available funds both wisely and productively.

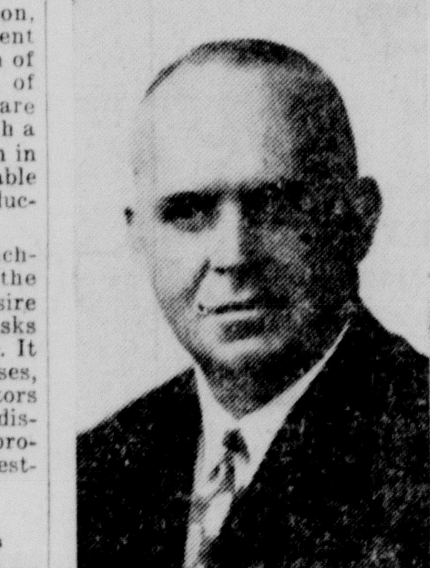

This problem, says Mr. Richardson, arises logically from the average investor's two-fold desire to combine minimum capital risks with maximum rate of return. It is being solved in many cases, particularly for smaller investors with limited funds at their disposal, by the Rollins firm's program known as Planned Investment Procedure.

What Planned Investment Procedure is Planned Investment Procedure offers to the individual a "custom-tailored" investment program which is based on a clear-cut analysis of his specific investment aims. Its basic function is to produce income — yields up to 4%, 5%, 6% or higher; in other words to give the investor a worthwhile rate of return on his funds through buying carefully selected securities of sound, well-established companies.

Constant Professional Supervision

Under Planned Investment Procedure, the Rollins firm applies its years of specialized experience in knowledge of securities transactions for the benefit of the investor, making all its facilities and departments available to him for purposes of information and guidance. Thus, even the inexperienced investor — the man who has never bought securities before — receives the soundest of investment counsel; is clearly and carefully shown just what steps he should take and why, in order to follow the line most consistent with his own already-determined investment purposes.

Full Information Available

The objective of the Planned Investment Procedure is to aid the average American investor, whether with large or limited funds to invest, in his vital job of building financial security for himself and his family.

Mr. Richardson, as representative of E. H. Rollins & Sons, Inc., the investment firm sponsoring Planned Investment Procedure, will be glad to furnish complete details and information, without obligation of any sort, and to show you specifically how Planned Investment Procedure can help you to realize your investment aims. For the whole interesting story on Planned Investment Procedure, simply address W. J. Richardson, Box 211, Bexley, Columbus 9, Ohio, or phone FAirfax 4416.

Redistricting Solves Problem

Brown Thanks Parents For Cooperation

Parents have "cooperated very well" in a redistricting plan put into effect for pupils enrolled in the elementary grades.

This was reported Thursday by Stephen Brown, new superintendent of schools.

Brown said he was especially gratified at the way parents helped school officials solve a problem of crowding at Eastside and Sunnyside schools.

The superintendent of schools said one bus was being used to transport pupils out of their regular districts. Children were showing up at the right places on the second day of school.

There were no reports of overcrowding at elementary schools which received some of the overflow, according to Brown.

He said the second-day enrollment for all schools in the city went to 1901. First-day enrollment and to practice modern conservation methods and land management. This trend insures a steady improvement in the condition of agriculture for many years in the future.

ment totaled 1868, figures showed. The breakdown of the second-day enrollment showed that there were 1,065 pupils in the elementary grades, including 518 girls and 547 boys.

Enrollment at the high school for grades seven through 12 went up to 836.

Some of the problems found in the first couple of days of school and some of the plans for the future were discussed at a meeting of principals, held at Central School late Wednesday afternoon.

Is Official Integrity Reaching A New Low?

What has happened to the quality of integrity of people in high official places in this country?

There was a time when we were all inclined to feel that government positions of responsibility were a badge of high character; that a vast majority of the people we elected to office were both mentally and legally honest.

Today down at Washington, D. C. we get a picture of intolerable confusion. We detect strong odors of a sickening miasma arising from an officialdom which goes far astray in setting a pattern of strength and decency for American life.

Far more serious is the effect it is having upon the people. We are beginning to regard the government as a sort of "grab-bag" with every fellow reaching for whatever he can get—and mostly getting it. Also the people are losing interest in their greatest asset—the right to vote. Only 48 percent of the voters cast ballots in 1948.

Distasteful indeed is the picture of the president of the United States stooping so far beneath the dignity of his high office as to defend and tolerate a man of the type of General Vaughan, who admittedly is guilty of a moral wrong in using the powers and influence of his office to obtain questionable favors for small time politicians and others. He is definitely morally wrong in his concept of public service even if he is not brazenly violating the law.

Then we have members of Congress demanding use of army or navy airplanes for junkets which are little more than private pleasure trips. The use of these planes at approximately $25,000 of the taxpayers' money per trip as compared to $5,000 to $6,000 for the use of a private commercial plane, which should be paid for by officials themselves unless there is urgent government need for a trip, is another disgusting example of official abuse of prerogatives.

We are teaching a whole generation low ideals of service. We are paying little attention to anything but schemes for votes. That goes from the president on down the line, apparently.

Pressure groups show strength that makes the mass of little people, the average citizens, shrink from offending them. Demand for big subsidies is the rule rather than the exception. One man right here in Washington C. H. told us recently we had to go on with our practise of having the government "give something for nothing" or we faced "revolution." If that is true, God pity America.

All we ordinary common citizens can do is to protest, we still have the right to do that. Maybe somehow, sometime there may arise a strong man of character, who does not believe in dictatorship, to lead us back along the hard road of sacrifice and unselfishness. Maybe we can follow a course which will put this nation back on the path that formerly made us an outstanding example of good citizenship, to the world. It may mean "blood and sweat and tears" but it may be worth it. We hope it comes before too late.

The new inventions are said to include a mechanical calculating machine which is 12,000 times faster than the human mind, and much more accurate. This sounds like just the instrument needed to balance the old checkbook.

The most difficult decision of late summer is whether to cut the grass just once more.

John 3rd 'Carries' Out Traditions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(P)—There will be no more peace in our time.

John D. Rockefeller 3rd has seen to that. He has carried his family's tradition of philanthropy right out the window.

John D. Sr., did wonders for world health with his millions. John D. Jr. made a hopeful bid for world order by donating a fine site for the United Nations to build its echo chambers.

And John D. Three? What is he doing? Why, he's building a guest house for visiting relatives. There is no doubt he and his wife probably need it. They hardly have room in their East Side apartment to entertain the 95 relatives who showed up for their wedding in 1932.

But young Rockefeller has put some 3,000,000 other New York families on the spot. Because— you know how relatives are — their hinterland kin are going to expect the same kind of treatment.

"Rockefeller built a house for his relatives," they'll sneer. "Why don't you? Getting to big for us, Eh?"

And this will be difficult to answer, because most out-of-town visitors are sure that everybody here lives like Rockefeller — or Tommy Manville. Maybe they do, but it is often on a smaller scale.

The trouble with John D. 3rd's adventure in family good-will is that he built his guest house as if he r-e-a-l-l-y w-a-n-t-e-d all his obscure relatives to visit him.

It has a living room with a fireplace, three bedrooms and three baths. It has a sunlit patio complete with a goldfish pond and a live tree. Wonderful place for a city picnic.

And it would be a fine gesture of good will if young John D. 3rd would rent the joint out occasionally when his own folks weren't having a clam bake. A lot of fellow citizens here could use it to show their relatives a hot time.

But, like me, they would probably want to make some modifications. I have in mind entertaining my fourth cousin, flapped Roscoe ("Squeegie") Boyle. Cousin Squeegie lives in Cornpot, Iowa, and earned his nickname as a boy by winning a dime bet he could wash a department store with one ear without using a ladder.

Squeegie still has the dime—also a wife, a pet parrot, and eight flap-eared children. Everybody else in our family regards Squeegie as a worse plague than the locust, which appears only once in 17 years. The Squeegie tribe is an annual blight.

It would be necessary, as I say, to fix up the Rockefeller guest house a bit for the Squeegies. First, I'd stop up the fire-place flue with concrete and get a good smudgy fire going. Then I'd put a garter snake in every bureau drawer, and five famished rats in each kitchen cabinet.

A wild falcon would be perched on the tree to take care of the parrot; the pond would be full of snapping turtles instead of goldfish. I'd put two live grizzly bears in the master's bedroom to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Squeegie. There'd be four wildcats in each of the other two bedrooms to play with Squeegie's eight little monsters.

As I left I'd scatter tacks and cut glass on the living room rug, as the Squeegies usually arrive barefooted — "It feels so cool," cousin Hal, and you know what they want these days for shoe leather."

When the Squeegies arrived, I'd usher them in, back out fast, lock the door and throw the key down the nearest manhole.

Lots of people have relatives like Squeegie. If young Rockefeller would rent out his guest house, he not only would go down as a benefactor of mankind — he'd make a profit.

Representative Government

By George E. Sokolsky

By no possible definition is the United States a democracy. In American History, up to Woodrow Wilson's time, the word "democracy" was rarely used except in relationship to the Democratic party. No patriotic song, for instance, written to inspire our people, employs the word, democracy.

"The Star Spangled Banner," "America," the "Battle Hymn of the Republic,"—no such songs deal with democracy; yet, they are emotional expressions of the American ideal.

This is, by constitutional definition, a republic, a federation of states, the government being chosen at state periods to represent the states and the people thereof.

The House of representatives most closely represents the people: first, because the entire lower house has to stand for election every two years; and secondly, because the congressional district must, in some manner, convince the voters that he represents them. It is absolutely a negation of our system of government to expect a member of the House of representatives to take a broad, national viewpoint. He was not elected for that purpose. He was elected to represent his constituency and to report to it at two-year intervals and to be responsible to it.

The members of the House of representatives are most often the smaller men in the political apparatus. But they rarely run counter to the predominant opinion in their districts. If Mississippi elected John Rankin, Brooklyn elects Emanuel Celler, and never were two men more unlike. Before most of these men reach the level of being candidates for the House of Representatives, they have had to attract attention to themselves of a sufficient degree by large voting group in their district. A vote consists of C.I.O. members, will not elect an officer of the National Association of Manufacturers and neither the Republican nor Democrat party will nominate him.

Therefore, he who wishes to be elected to the House of representatives must, to use a fine word, adapt himself to the mental and emotional facade of his district. This may involve him in compromise which may stretch his self-respect at times, but he will rationalize that by insisting that he is after all a representative and that one man cannot be smarter than 50,000 or 100,000 men and women, which is, of course, untrue as the lives of Galileo and Newton prove. The politician who elevates himself to the House of representatives discovers, in the house, that it is a fragment of a group. The group itself is amorphous and leadership shifting. It responds to external pressures and accepts instructions from leadership outside itself as, for instance, from the president or from powerful bosses or from its national committee.

To move along to any point, therefore, requires constant compromises, sometimes on the low level of daily transactions: sometimes involving fundamentals of conscience. Yet, without compromise, there could be no motion. Every bill would be log-jammed. Every proposal would be lost in endless debate. So fictitious is the process that most of the speeches you read as having been delivered in Congress were never delivered at all.

The system works. Congress does an amazing amount of business each year and much of it is competently done. The uncompromising individual, sure of his philosophy of life, will fail in the House of representatives. Also, such men usually fail of re-election because they do not represent their constituents: they only represent themselves.

The reason that Congress is such an outstanding success as a government apparatus is precisely in the narrow representative character of its members. Taken as a whole, Congress is a composite of the entire nation. If the people voted nationally for its members, they would not be as closely represented as they are by our process of district representation and response to pressure groups. Business, every form of labor, every political, social and religious group is represented: every racial and nationalistic component of the country is represented. These men may not be the best-trained in the world, nor the most wise, but they are a mirror of the nation. That is one reason why the system works.

Diet and Health B-12 Most Powerful Anti-Anemic Drug

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THERE are a number of different types of anemia. Pernicious anemia is one of them and is a serious condition in which the body fails to produce healthy red blood cells to replace those constantly being worn out and destroyed in our daily activity.

We have realized for many years that those who suffer from pernicious anemia lack some substance necessary to the regeneration of blood cells. We have known, too, that this substance is found abundantly in liver, but exactly what it was we did not know.

Now, after years of effort, scientists have succeeded in isolating this mysterious factor in pure form. Known as Vitamin B-12, it is said to be the most powerful and effective anti-anemic drug ever discovered.

Patients with pernicious anemia not only lose weight and strength, but also develop damage to the spinal cord if the disease is allowed to progress. Nervous symptoms include numbness and tingling of the arms and legs, and even more severe signs of disorder. Many patients develop inflammation of the tongue, pain due to inflammation of the tongue, nerves, and loss of mental alertness.

It would appear that the Vitamin B-12 has particular value in the severe form of pernicious anemia in which the spinal cord is affected. For example, in recent studies of this vitamin, it was found that a number of patients treated by the injection of Vitamin B-12 into a muscle had a gradual return of strength and mental alertness, their appetite improved, and a gain in weight occurred. Soreness of the tongue and mouth disappeared.

within a few days. The symptoms due to nerve inflammation also were gradually eliminated. In view of the extent of damage to the nervous system, the rate of improvement was remarkably rapid.

Effect on Blood

The effect on the blood was checked by removing tissues from the breast bone through a large needle. Within 48 hours, in patients given relatively large doses of the Vitamin B-12, rapid regeneration of the red blood cells (normal in every way) occurred.

Unless the treatment for pernicious anemia is carried on continuously, relapses may occur and the symptoms become worse.

Pernicious anemia can also be treated with liver extract or extract of the lining membrane of the stomach. Perhaps combined treatment with these various substances will prove to be the most satisfactory method of taking care of the pernicious anemia patient in the future.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. B.: What is arthritis of the lower spine?

Answer: Osteoarthritis of the spine is a condition in which there is inflammation in the joints of the spine, together with an overgrowth of the bony tissues around the joint.

The exact cause of the disorder is not known, although the presence of a spot of infection somewhere in the body is responsible.

The removal of such spots of infection and building up the individual's general health are important factors in the treatment of the condition.

County Schools Get $42,000

Payment Is Part Of State Aid Program

The Fayette County school districts have received a total of $42,017.23 in the third quarterly payment of state foundation program benefits.

This is part of the total of $160,334.55 slated for the county system for 1949 through state aid.

This money is spent for the operation and maintenance of the school system, and for salaries, said County Superintendent of Schools William J. Hilty.

The amount each school district receives is computed according to last year's attendance figures.

The state has set up the figure of $101.75 as the minimum amount needed to educate an elementary school pupil for one year. The amount per high school pupil is $122 per year.

The state pays the difference between this total, which is based on the daily average attendance, and the sum the schools receive from 4 1/2 mills in taxes.

In this way, education's equalized for the benefit of school children. Poorer school districts are enabled to provide the same quality education as more fortunate districts.

The breakdown of the third quarterly payment is as follows:

Bloomington	$8,067.99
Concord	1,498.33
Green	1,618.18
Jasper	3,263.46
Jefferson	8,612.16
Madison	4,422.03

FRANKLIN CLICK, 30, celery farm worker, signed statements admitting three killings, according to Ft. Wayne, Ind., police, which were previously confessed to and later denied by Ralph Lobaugh. Lobaugh was convicted of a fourth slaying but granted stay of execution by Gov. Henry Schriker. Lobaugh declares he was trying to commit "legal suicide." In Ogden, Utah, Richard Dix Pack of Pocatello, Idaho, signed a statement confessing to hotel slaying of tattooed blond Shirley Scott of Seattle, Wash., police said. Killer's Mother Prostrated; 'Quiet Kid' Army Sergeant Says

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 8—(AP)—The mother of the berserk gunman who slaughtered 13 persons in cold blood was prostrated today in her grief over the tragedy.

Mrs. Freda Unruh, about 50, is seriously ill at the home of a sister, Mrs. E. M. Wonseller. The physician attending her said she lapses into unconsciousness frequently. Her 28-year-old son, Howard, is under close police guard, charged with murder.

Mrs. Unruh left her ironing unfinished and went to the home of a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Caroline Pinner, 70. This was while Howard was eating his breakfast and, police said later, planning his massacre.

Mrs. Pinner told a reporter Mrs. Unruh said she was worried about Howard. She mentioned that his eyes looked funny.

Suddenly gunfire echoed in the street below.

Mrs. Unruh screamed.

"Howard, Howard," Mrs. Pinner said the mother cried, "they've done this to you." Then:

"I've got to use the phone."

Mrs. Unruh started to walk across the Pinner living room, but she never reached the telephone table. She collapsed in a faint. Later she was taken to her sister's home.

Mrs. Wonseller said that Frank Unruh, Howard's father, has been separated from his wife for some years. His whereabouts are unknown.

"QUIET KID" IN ARMY

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8—(AP)—Howard Unruh, the berserk gunman of Camden, was a cool, quiet, Bible-reading soldier with a passion for guns, his war-time sergeant recalled here today.

Norman E. Koehn of Portland pointed to a picture of Unruh, who killed 13 persons in Camden, N. J., yesterday, in a booklet telling the history of the 342nd armored field artillery battalion.

"Howard was a quiet kid," Koehn, his section chief in Battery C, said. "He never associated much with the other fellows, but he was intelligent—a pretty smart kid. I don't think anybody gave him much credit for that. He was cool, too, never excitable."

Unruh wrote long letters—page after page—to his mother while overseas in Italy and France, Koehn said, and spent hours reading the Bible.

But his hobby was guns: "guns and bayonets. I've probably seen that Luger he used, because he had dozens of guns." His marksmanship was deadly, Koehn added, telling of an experience which he considered a narrow escape from Unruh's rifle. He said he had spotted a wild boar while seated in a mortar crater in Austria one moonlight night, fired, then took after it. Unruh, on sentry duty, challenged him.

Daybreak Picture At Two Churches

"Daybreak", a moving picture presented by the Church World Service, will be shown at McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church, on Lewis Street next Sunday at 7:30 P. M., and at the Presbyterian Church in Bloomington, Sept. 18, at 7:30 P. M., with no admission charge. The public is invited.

The film tells the story of the actual experiences of a young refugee who escaped to Austria after release from a prisoner of war camp. It is the drama of life among the world's large number of dispossessed.

Those attending the presentation of the picture are asked to take some article or two of used clothing. This clothing will be sent over seas through the Church World Service Agency.

Grass Fire Rages On County Farm

Firemen were summoned to the county home farm on the Columbus Road, at 1:50 P. M. Wednesday by a grass fire. It apparently was started by some motorist tossing the stub of a cigarette into the grass, one of the firemen theorized. The fire burned over several acres before it could be extinguished.

The tanker used for rural runs was sent and a booster line made quick work of halting spread of the fire.

A few people from the immediate neighborhood were fighting the blaze as best they could when the tanker reached the spot.

The suit was filed by Robert W. Wagner of Canton. He named Gerald L. Witwer and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jason L. Witwer, as defendants.

Wagner charged in his suit that Witwer, with the aid of his parents, stole the affections of his wife of eight years, Mrs. Louise Wagner.

Malaya Police Force Kept at Full Strength

KUALA LUMPUR — (AP) — The Federation of Malaya's police force is now at full strength—14,522 men—for the first time since the liberation in August, 1945.

At the time of the liberation the police force strength was 7,663 which was considered 289 below the approved pre-war establishment. With the declaration of an emergency in Malaya as a result of the outbreak of a Communist campaign last year it was decided to bring the total to its present peak.

Alpha, Beta CCL Circles Hold Joint Meeting

About forty members of Beta and Alpha Circles of the Child Conservation League assembled at the lovely country home of Mrs. Richard Gillen on Wednesday evening for a combined meeting to start the fall sessions.

Colorful bouquets of fall flowers used at vantage points throughout the rooms made up the elaborate decorations for the occasion.

Mrs. Wendell Whiteside, president of Alpha Circle, presided over the meeting and announced that the state convention of the CCL would be held November 6-7 in the Neil House in Columbus. By unanimous vote Mrs. Whiteside and Mrs. William Himmelsbach, vice president, were appointed as delegates from Alpha Circle. Mrs. Whiteside also appointed the membership and flower committees. Mrs. Gillen, program chairman, presented Mr. Neil Hercules, publicity manager of the swimming pool campaign, who distributed literature on the campaign and talked on the procedure of the drive, stressing the need of volunteer workers.

Mrs. Gillen then introduced Miss Christine Evans, administrator of the new memorial hospital. She gave a most interesting resume of the work. She explained the various departments of the hospital and earnestly solicited cooperation from the public, not only as possible patients in the institution, but also the help of medical and nursing professions. She told of the importance of all these and other groups uniting in efforts to bring success to the hospital and thus aid in promoting it to become a highly efficient institution.

She also stressed the need for auxiliaries, more commonly known as Twigs, as an asset to the hospital and said that she felt, the CCL circles were one of the logical groups to speak to on this subject.

A panel discussion followed and Miss Evans graciously answered the many questions asked by the members.

During a social hour following tempting refreshments were served by the hostess who is a member of Alpha Circle, who was assisted by Mrs. Wendell Briggs, Mrs. Gilbert Crouse, Mrs. Tran Del Ponte of Beta Circle, Mrs. Don Scholl, Mrs. Paul Van Voorhis and Mrs. Charles Reinke of Alpha Circle.

Paris Style Show
Shoots the Works
For High Society

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

PARIS—The opening show of one of Paris' top couturiers is like nothing else in this world. Most of them combine the best and worst elements of a Broadway opening night, a high-society party with lots of gate crashers and a three-ring circus.

Fashion shows in America are run off in a business-like fashion and the interested parties sit around in chairs and regard the clothes. Occasionally someone decides to do something a little different, but that doesn't interfere with the presentation of the models.

But in this town, the couple of weeks devoted to showing the press and buyers of the western world what Paris has decided can best be described as a fascinating rat race. The salons and garden courtyards where the mannequins parade the new creations are filled with interesting people from all walks of life.

First there are the representatives of the American fashion magazines. There are usually five or six representatives of each of the two best known, and each one carries herself as though she were aware of her position as high priestess in the cult of fashion. The best seats in the mason de couture are reserved for them, too, and the designer himself is usually on hand to welcome them, with hand-kissing and a flurry of photographer's flash bulbs. During the shows, they usually sit with poker-faces, jotting down an occasional note and once in a while conducting a whispered conference among themselves. I've never been able to eavesdrop on any of these, but I can imagine the fate of women's world depends on each exchange.

"I have decided," I imagine the editress-in-chief is saying to her handmaidens, "that before the first snow flies we will require every style conscious woman in America to be wearing a double berth."

Then there is the group referred to as the "press." The French couture, to a man, thinks very little of the press, of France or America, and the newspaper writers have to be on their toes every second to make sure their seats haven't been usurped by some press agent or representative of a girdle manufacturer with a smooth line and better knowledge of French than reporters. You can spot the French press from a distance. They are usually shabbily dressed, make copious notes and are wildly enthusiastic about the clothes. I've seen little Frenchwomen, their faces aglow with joy, exclaim breathlessly over a dress, or become so enraptured by material that they reach out to touch it as the mannequin sweeps past them.

There are the buyers—most of them call themselves "fashion directors" when they get the Paris buying assignment. They usually dress in the height of fashion, in clothes by name dressmakers. They often sit alone because what you buy is as secret as how to make an atom bomb. They make lots of notes in handsome, leather-bound notebooks.

Finally, there are the special customers—wealthy women, women of title and beautiful women, who show off clothes to

Peace At Last From PERSISTENT ITCH!

No wonder thousands teased by itchy torment bless the day they changed to Resinol. advantage. They watch the clothes with narrowed eyes, imagining how they themselves would look in each model shown. Here and there are manufacturers of lace textiles, gloves and fur processors.

Champagne is inevitably served someplace along the line. Most of the spectators dress formally or in dinner clothes for the evening shows. Frequently, when a particularly beautiful dress, or new piece of fabric is shown, there is applause. And if you look carefully around you, you can spot in inconspicuous places a ring of eager faces looking down at the show. These are the midnights, the "petits mains" whose handwork has gone into the clothes—and they are starry-eyed and excited.

No matter how hard-boiled you are, now much you believe that fashion is spinach, the whole atmosphere of an opening is exciting. I kept thinking: "In this house are all the people who dictate how women will dress for the next few months. They certainly look unhappy about it all, too."

But I must say that the Dior opening was the most fun I had all the atmosphere of the premiere of "South Pacific."

It's Square Hip, Girls, for Fall

By GLORIA YARBROUGH

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8—(AP)—Hips will be square next season, if Designer Howard Greer has his way.

Suits with box hips featured the movie designer's presentation of his fall and winter collection for 1949-50.

The box, a featherbone construction which extends out over the hips, was made into the jacket of the suit. It was also used on dinner and evening jackets.

Extremely high necklines and long sleeves on sheath-like afternoon dresses were an interesting contrast to the boxy hips and the huge puffs and bustles on the evening gowns.

Greer had a couple of the latter with low necklines, which he termed "sex traps." But he's not a complete devotee of the deep plunge. He showed others with conventional and high lines. A slim evening skirt had the usual slit-to-the-knee reversed. Just the back of the leg was visible.

There were no simple, tailored suits. A row of braid around the hem, hipline or bodice gave each a dressed-up look. One suit had a red satin brocade collar.

Bugle beads were used consistently on Greer's evening wear.

A cardigan jacket of silk chiffon was solidly embroidered with gold beads. And was worn with both evening and afternoon dresses. Some dresses were just long beaded sheaths.

Strapless gowns with bodices of intertwined satin and lame; gowns with boned bodices of satin petals (which looked like artichokes); and gowns with taffeta brocaded puffs over tube skirts are examples of the luxurious evening clothes Greer designed for the coming season.

Icebergs are not all frosty while. Strata of deep-blue ice are scattered through most of them.

With A Buckeye In Congress

Congress Leaders Concerned
Over Unemployment Situation

By CLARENCE J. BROWN

Labor Day was celebrated in Washington by the closing of all government departments, except for emergency services. High ranking officials, including the president, visited various sections of the nation for Labor Day addresses, in which high tribute was paid to the workers of America.

Speaking of American workers—the unemployment situation as of Labor Day is not too encouraging. While top ranking administration leaders talk publicly about a pick-up in employment and business activities, they are privately and officially preparing for increased unemployment during the last quarter of 1949. During that period federal spending will be stepped up sharply. If the employment situation grows progressively worse, many public works projects plans for which are now on the shelf for emergency use, will be put under way. A House committee was told recently that federal, state and local governments now have ready the plans for public works and construction which would cost a combined minimum of $68 billion, and that the plans could be expanded to cost as much as $110 billion, which should certainly take care of any unemployment situation, providing the money can be made available.

It appears the Truman administration leaders in Congress will be able to block the consideration of legislation to repeal wartime excise taxes until some time in 1950. The continued imposition of these wartime taxes has greatly interfered with employment in many industries as well as with the sale of many products. At the time these wartime excise taxes were originally levied, the definite promise was made they would be replaced within six months after the shooting stopped. More than four years have passed since the last shot was fired in World War II, but the wartime excise taxes are still being collected. Many Americans are frowning rather angry over the issue, and rightly so.

Before long a Congressional investigation of lobby activities will get under way. However, the investigation will not be confined solely to the activities of the representatives of business and industry who attempt to influence legislative results. The inquiry will also look into the attempts of government agencies and officials to put pressure on the national legislators. A constitutional question as to the rights of citizens to petition their representatives in Congress on public issues may be raised by the inquiry.

The Budget Bureau of the federal government is already at work preparing to change over its bookkeeping system for the fiscal year beginning June 30, next, to the "performance budget" plan recommended by the Hoover Commission. The performance budget will set out public expenditures according to activities and programs in a way which unlike the present budget, would clearly and quickly show where the money appropriated is going. Under the new system it is believed Congress will have a better chance to police and control government spending.

The World Bank is one international activity set up by the United States government which is so conservatively managed as to make money instead of losing it. With authority to lend as much as eight billion dollars to foreign nations, it has actually loaned only seven hundred million dollars, with the loans said to be on a sound basis. During the three years of its operation, the World Bank has also earned a net profit of $13,641,000.

According to Department of Agriculture reports this year's corn crop will be second only to last year's crop in size, and may even actually exceed it. With the crop soon ready to harvest, there is still much old corn carrying government loans, in storage. Little or no action has been taken by the government to increase grain storage capacity. As a result of these conditions, corn prices are expected to break sharply during the harvest season.

Now that the government is getting its new public housing program, recently authorized by the Congress, under way, a movement is on foot to try to push through one next season of Congress a law authorizing the government to finance cooperatives to construct housing for the middle income groups. Under the proposed plan the government would put up all the money for these non-profit housing cooperatives, to

Rodeo Sunday
At Mt. Sterling

Event Postponed
Because of Rain

The Mt. Sterling Western Horse Club today had set in motion plans for holding its fourth annual show at the rodeo field there next Sunday afternoon and night.

The show, originally scheduled for last Sunday, was rained out. But, instead of getting discouraged and calling the whole thing off, club officers, with the backing of the members and potential spectators, just postponed the festivities for a week.

The prize money running into several hundred dollars, the trophies and the ribbons have been put away for safekeeping.

The horses, tack and regalia, have not been laid aside even temporarily. The members of the club and rodeo contestants are keeping everything in shape, including themselves, by regular workouts. For, any misuses or dullness of action could prove disastrous in a slam-bang rodeo such as that put on by the Mt.

Sterling club.

The afternoon show is scheduled to start at 1 P.M. and the evening show at 7:30 P.M. Each performance has ten events listed.

In the show, the competition will include just about everything used by the cowboys at work on the range. In addition to the demonstrations of cattle cutting and calf roping there will be classes in which both the horses and horsemanship are the features. Members of the Mt. Sterling

Last Rush For Driver Permits

September 30 Last
Get New Permits

The last rush for motor vehicle drivers' licenses is now on at the Fayette County Auto Club offices, where 10 persons are available to issue the licenses with as little delay as possible.

The sale of drivers' licenses started Tuesday, and a large number was issued the first day, and Wednesday large numbers of drivers were filing into the office for their permits.

All drivers must have their new licenses by September 30 at midnight. The cost is 40 cents.

Each person receiving a license will not have to renew their license for one year, plus the time until their next birthday after Sept. 30, 1950.

For instance if a person's birth-club came here last June to put on a modified version of the coming rodeo as an added attraction in recreation program opening ceremonies at Wilson Field.

day is in April, then the present license is good for one year, and the additional time until their birthday after Sept. 30, 1950.

The next license obtained will be for three years from the birthday date, and the cost will be $1 for the three years.

In this way the issuing of licenses will be scattered throughout the year, and there will be no annual rush. Likewise there will be one-third of the present amount of work of issuing licenses, due to the fact that they will be issued only every three years, and on the birthday of the holder.

Great Britain produced 14,877,000 tons of steel in 1949, almost tripling its 1931 output.

Emergency Drive For Polio Funds Gets Start Here

Is Part of Nationwide
Drive; Goal For U. S.
Set For $14,500,000

An emergency drive to combat polio was started in Fayette County Thursday, according to an announcement.

Paul Van Voorhis, chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said the drive is being held now because of the recent polio epidemic.

Van Voorhis said the epidemic wiped out most of the foundation's funds.

He said the drive is in conjunction with a nationwide campaign and will not be conducted like the annual March of Dimes, regular fund raising program for the foundation.

The county chairman said voluntary contributions will be accepted either by himself or by J. Roush Burton, treasurer for the Fayette County Chapter. He said he had already received a few contributions.

Funds For Patient Care

Purpose of the drive will be to provide immediate funds for the care of patients afflicted with infantile paralysis.

A recent epidemic, perhaps the worst on record, may boost the fund total for 1949 to $25,000,000. Leaders of the national drive hope to raise $14,500,000 in the current drive for funds.

During 1948, there were 27,908 cases, the highest number since the record total in 1916.

The nation's total number of cases now is as large as a full year's toll in previous years, with the prediction that it will at least double the number before December 13, 1949.

Four Active Cases

There are four active cases in Fayette County at the present time, according to Van Voorhis. He said they include one new case recorded this year.

Van Voorhis said he had received several requests from residents of the county as to how to get help for infantile paralysis treatment.

He listed the following information as a guide:

(1) At the first sign of illness, call your doctor. If he suspects polio he will report the case to the Fayette County Board of Health and arrange for hospitalization or home care, as indicated.

(2) If your doctor says it is polio and requires hospitalization, the local chapter of the National Foundation will help arrange for transportation to the treatment center. Your chapter will get in touch with you as soon as it learns of the case through your physician. (Your chapter chairman is Paul Van Voorhis, phone 2542 or 7791. You may call the chapter secretary Ora Middleton, phone 21441.)

Chapter Arranges Details
(3) The chapter representative will notify the hospital that it is arranging with you for full or partial payment of expenses for medical care. Adults are as eligible for help as are children. Discuss how much of the full bill the chapter will pay. March of Dimes funds are used to help families of moderate income who cannot meet the high costs of modern care.

(4) Chapters pay for hospitalization, professional services including nursing and physical therapy, transportation to and from hospitals, convalescent centers and clinics treatment after hospitalization and appliances such as wheelchairs, braces, etc. as needed. There are no hard and fast rules. Each case is decided upon individual medical and financial needs. Assistance is given regardless of age, race, creed or color. More than 110,000 polio patients were directly assisted in full or in part up to the end of 1948.

(5) In addition, your chapter can put you in touch with proper sources for nursing and physical therapy at home, can refer you to rehabilitation and vocational training agencies, will provide literature designed to foster better understanding of infantile paralysis—so you will know what to expect and how to help your polio patient back to a useful life.

Cool Weather Ups Meat Demand

(By the Associated Press)

Cooler weather sharpened the demand for meat and pushed pork and beef prices a few cents higher in many markets this week.

Some types of poultry, particularly fryers, also were up slightly, but dairy products and most fresh fruits and vegetables held about steady.

The biggest price boosts at the meat counters were for the more popular cuts of pork. Loin pork chops, for example, were up four to six cents a pound in the highly competitive chain stores of several large cities.

Market analysts said farmers apparently were holding back many hogs for feeding to heavier weights, for runs to market so far have been only slightly bigger than a year ago when pork was in short supply.

However, most spokesmen said they still expect retail pork prices to start tumbling within the next three weeks as suppliers hurry the spring crop to market before the support level starts seasonally downward Oct. 1.

Supplies Increasing

Beef also was expected to start declining soon. Grass-fed cattle now beginning to arrive in heavier volume soon will be competing with that anticipated flood of pork, these sources said. Right now, however, the more choice feed-lot beef was reported in strong, active demand.

Demand for pre-cooked hams and other smoked meats over the Labor Day week-end was described as disappointing by many traders. One authority said abundant and reasonably-priced turkey was giving ham lots of competition for the shoppers' dollar.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okl.) of the senate agriculture committee this week urged a senate investigation of what he called "egg-price manipulation" under the price-support program. He recommended that the government send surplus eggs to areas where retail prices are high, rather than buying them from dried-egg processors in powdered form. Thomas said "handsome profits" are going to the processors.

The agriculture department, asked for comment, said a letter had been sent the Oklahoma senator recently explaining why such a proposal was considered impractical. Among the reasons offered was that shell eggs used by the driers are uncandled, ungraded and unsuitable for retail consumer use. The department said there is not surplus of good quality shell eggs.

Prices On Decline

The National Industrial Conference board said a survey of 62 cities showed that consumers food prices declined 7.4 per cent between mid-July last year and the same dates this year, and declined 6 per cent during the month ended July 14.

The board, an independent business research organization, also said retail prices for consumers' goods and services purchased by moderate-income families eased 3 per cent from June to July this year. Declines were reported in 52 of the cities, the largest decreases being 1.2 per cent in Seattle, and 1.1 per cent in Philadelphia. Nine of the 62 cities surveyed reported increases, the largest being Dalls' 3.1 per cent, and Newark's 1.2 per cent. Syracuse, N. Y. reported no change. The index includes food, housing, clothing, fuel, housefurnishings and sundries.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week advanced to $5.82 from $5.78 a week ago, and compared with $6.86 a year ago. The figure represents the total wholesale cost of a

American Products Barred

At Red-dominated Czech Fair

PRAGUE, Sept. 8—(AP)—The Russians, promising to show things like oil boring machinery complete with derricks, will have the biggest display in the 15th jubilee Prague Industrial Fair Sept. 11 to 18.

But the country whose exhibit and wares the Czechs yearn most to see—the United States—won't be represented, unless it is by small showings of American firms which have branches here.

For the most part the jubilee fair will be a Soviet and "people's democracy" show.

To date there are 16 countries entered. Eight of them have engaged floor space for official showing, in addition to Czechoslovakia. They are Soviet Union, Poland, Bulgaria, Italy, Aybania and Finland.

The Soviet Union will have more space than all the other foreign entrants combined.

There are eight countries which plan to be represented by individual firms, the Czech announcements say. They are Belgium, Denmark, Lichtenstein, The Netherlands, Austria, France, Switzerland and Great Britain.

The "Czechoslovak Economic Bulletin" reports the Soviet Union's display will be the largest abroad of its industry, including heavy machinery, tractors, trucks, agricultural machinery and combines. Other items include a complete plant for oil bearings, together with derricks. The Russians also are to show motor and trolley buses of various types.

The Czechs meanwhile are preparing to spread the velvet carpet for buyers. The Economic Bulletin said the "first large party" of buyers had been signed up from Brazil—25, reputedly representing large stores.

Czech authorities admit privately that what the people want most to see at the fair are the latest products of America and the rest of the west. They would love to see the newest American automobiles, radios, household appliances and a television set.

The cedars of Lebanon are closely related to cedars in the Atlas Mountains of north Africa and other cedars in the Mimalayas, but are different from American cedars.

FOLKS take a look at those bumper-guard grilles—built as a unit and proof against "locking horns"—and say "Hmmm! Nice!"

They sweep their eyes over tapering fenders, with a suggestion of jet power in their after contours—and say, "That's for me!"

They eye-measure windshields that are 48% bigger and rear windows with 56% more area—and know without being told they can see the road up closer, both fore and aft.

So they say—"That's for me—IF!"

"What does it cost me to get this handy-sized dandy with the roomiest interiors ever found on a Buick Special?"

"What do I pay for high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power from a big Buick straight-eight engine?"

"What's the tag on that swell Buick ride, with coil springing, extra-wide rims, seats between the axles and all that?"

"And what about Dynaflo Drive—understand I can have that at extra cost—how much?"

Well, sir, the news is good. Plenty good.

Because this honey's priced well under your expectations. It's a straight-eight that's priced under a lot of sixes—over the years your investment will be no more than for any other car.

Italian Romance On Rough Road

Housing Shortage Is Big Obstacle

By CESARE BRUSINI
ROME, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The housing shortage keeps many Italians from marrying.

A suburban two-room-kitchen-and bath unfurnished apartment rents for 30,000 lire ($50) per month, which is an average monthly salary.

That isn't all. To get the apartment some pieces of old furniture must be purchased. The owner usually asks from 300,000 to 1,000,000 lire ($500 to $1,620) for the furniture.

Some 6,000,000 rooms were damaged in Italy in the war, of which 3,400,000 were repaired.

"To solve the problem 14,000 rooms are required, but this is too much for our present means," Public Works Minister Umberto Turpin recently told a congress of Catholic women.

Under present plans Italy will build houses at the rate of 500,000 rooms per year in the next 12 years. All government projects call for small apartments.

"The larger ones will be built and paid for by private citizens who want them," Turpin said. "We, (the government) must care for those in the lower income groups who have no means to provide convenient housing for themselves."

Stay in Cities

Workers flocking to industries during the war increased the housing problem. Since the war practically none returned to their towns and villages. The Rome area has swollen from one and one-half million inhabitants before the war to two million people.

"A house for every family" was the slogan of a recent housing exhibition in Turin. Exhibits showing the country's best housing projects were presented. Some are already under construction, others will start as soon as the government has made available to the building industry all of the 75,000,000,000 lire ($125,000,000) allotted from European recovery program funds.

Part of this sum is being used by government agencies to build apartment houses in the outskirts of the major towns. The largest portion will be loaned to private companies, cooperatives and private citizens, to be repaid as rent over many years.

Investors Wary

Builders estimate the country needs yearly some 800,000 new rooms, but the lack of proper credits and international uncertainty has kept people from investing.

Five billion lire already have been appropriated to build houses for workers and homeless people. Another five billion lire is being spent to build farm houses and farming centers.

One approved project calls for the expenditure of 15 billion lire for the construction of 903,000 rooms over seven years.

Another 15 billion lire will go to the UNRRA cases program, which has been underway for several years and is credited with the repair and reconstruction work in war-damaged areas of southern, central and eastern Italy.

The remaining 35,000,000,000 lire will be invested in a building loan revolving fund to provide housing for the most needy workers and the long-forgotten middle class.

Peace Feelers Made by Russia

Six-Point Scheme Has Vague Origin

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—(AP)—German newspapers have printed unconfirmed reports Russia has offered the west a new six-point scheme to end East-West differences in Berlin and Germany.

Western Allied officials in Berlin described the story as a Communist trial balloon. In London the British foreign office said it had heard rumors that Russia has proposed a new Berlin settlement. A spokesman stressed, however, that Britain had no official knowledge of such a move.

Newspapers in Berlin and Hamburg carried the story. They credited it to the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter which quoted "Allied sources in Berlin." The story was distributed in Berlin by the Allied-licensed news agency DPA.

The six points listed were:
1. Russia will recognize the West German republic at Bonn, and the western powers will recognize an East zone government.
2. The Soviet sector of Berlin will come under Western administration.

3. Berlin will become the 12th district in the West German federal state, connected to the Western occupation zones by a corridor.
4. Russia will be given a free port in Hamburg, with a corridor through the British zone.

5. Russia will be represented in the Western Allies' Ruhr Valley Control Authority.
6. The Soviet-backed East mark, now worth one-fifth of the 30-cent West mark, will be stabilized at an exchange rate of 2.25 to one West mark.

builder Powel Crosley, Jr. "Present indications are that between 65 and 70 million people over the nation are taking vacation trips in their family automobiles and another 10 million are going by train, bus, airplane and boat," he said. DO YOU KNOW ...
a PENNY is Big Money at Albers

When Albers Super Markets was originated more than sixteen years ago our principle thought was to save housewives money, wherever and whenever possible. All the operating costs, large and small, were carefully analyzed and unnecessary expenses eliminated. After figuring all the costs of foods and operations down to a fraction of a cent we decided that these savings should be passed on to our customers.

Albers Super Markets then originated the one-half cent register key whereby Albers customers could buy one item priced at 7 1/2c and another priced at 8 1/2c both for only 16c as compared to 17c in other markets, thus saving 1c. Our customers continually tell us that when they purchase ten items they save as much as 5c in addition to the regular savings because of Albers low prices.

Yes, Albers as originators of the one-half cent register key have saved its customers thousands of dollars.

Reds Trounce Pirates; Cards, Yanks Hang on

By JACK HAND
(By the Associated Press)

Lefty Ken Raffensberger, who isn't expected to hit much more than the size of his hat, is starting at the plate again.

Ken shared the spotlight with heavy-hitting Walker Cooper last night as he belted his first Major League homer in the Red's 5-2 triumph over the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates.

The homer wasn't the game-winning blow. That honor went to Cooper who clubbed a three-run triple. But, coupled with a nine-hit pitching job for his 15th victory of the season, Raffy gave good account of himself.

Not so long ago, Raffensberger connected for a tenth-inning double which turned the tide for Cincinnati against an eastern foe.

Last night's triumph was the second in a row for the Reds over the Pirates, who have been languishing in sixth place, a step ahead of the Rhinelanders.

Cooper's triple, which followed Grady Hatton's single and walks to Peanuts Lowrey and Ted Kluszewski, came in the fourth inning off Cliff Chambers and provided the winning margin.

Danny Litwhiler got a four-bagger in the sixth and Raffy lined one out in the eighth.

The Bucs scored single runs in the sixth and seventh but Raffy never was in serious trouble.

Smoky Joe Page is the man of the hour for the embattled New York Yankees.

Hero, in 1947, but a failure in 1948, the strong-armed fireman from the bullpen is a leading candidate for the most valuable player in the American League.

Page never was better than he was last night as he struck out four of the five men he faced in the Yanks' important 5-2 victory over Boston.

Called to the rescue of Allie Reynolds after Bobby Doerr tripped with the potential tying run in the eighth, Page blazed his fast ball past the Red Sox in a sizzling performance that dampened their pennant hopes.

Now 2½ games behind the Yanks, who never have been out of first place since opening day, the Sox must win the final two games of the Yankee Stadium series to remain within striking distance.

Rain knocked out the Cleveland-Detroit and Philadelphia-Washington games, but the Chicago White Sox scamped home with a 7-1 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. Bill Wight stumped the Brownies with a four-hit-ter.

Cardinals Hold Lead

In the National League St. Louis came from behind to shade Chicago, 3-2, after Brooklyn nosed out Boston, 5-4. The Cards still lead by one full game.

Four sharp singles in the last of the ninth pulled the Cards out of a loss that would have left them only two percentage points ahead of the Brooks. Glenn Nelson, who hit a homer in the fifth, started the winning surge. Solly Hemus, Nippy Jones and Marty Marion followed his lead to give Howie Pollet win No. 18.

Violence flared in Flatbush as Eddie Stanky of the Braves and Spider Jorgensen of the Dodgers squared off in a fist fight that involved members of both clubs. After both were ejected, Eddie Miksis replaced Jorgensen. He came through with the game-winning blow, a two-run homer in the seventh inning, his first of the year.

Stanky apparently spiked Jorgensen accidentally while pivoting for a double play in the fifth. Both players went down and there was a wild flurry before order was restored.

Jack Banta, striking out nine enroute to his eighth win, gave way to Joe Hatten when the Braves threatened in the ninth. Hatten ended the game with one pitch to pinch hitter Mickey Livingston.

Lions Look Good In Xenia Clinic

But Still Rough In Spots in Scrimmage

"The boys looked pretty good," said Coach Fred Pierson after he returned with his Blue Lion squad from the scrimmage with Xenia Central High School.

The line held well, added Pierson. We had a pretty good defense.

Operating from a single wing, the Blue Lions ran through their complete repertoire of plays as they alternated with Xenia in ten minutes of ball-carrying apiece.

The teams bucked each other through four quarters of scrimmaging and, after it was over, Pierson was well-pleased but felt that his backfield was rough in spots.

The passing attack also was just "fair" and it looks as though the offensive-play of the WHS gridders is in for some concentrated workouts to polish the ball-carriers.

Bob Alkire called the signals, said Pierson, in a backfield which included Aleshire, Anderson and Carl Smith. But the rest of the ball-toters also saw action, too.

A few fans were present in the Xenia grandstands as the full Blue Lion squad of 35 players went through the workout.

There was a rumor or two floating around that the Blue Lions had switched to the "T" for this season, but Wednesday's scrimmage debunked the talk.

Just two more weeks remain before the WHS team engages Linden-McKinley in the season opener at Columbus.

Fox Stake Won By Our Time In Fast Drive

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 8—(AP)—A stretch drive gave Our Time, a bay filly, the $29,767 Fox Stake for two-year-old pacers at the Indiana State Fair yesterday. It was the second of two top events in the five-day grand circuit program.

Frank Ervin let Poplar Hill Farm's Poplar Tom set the pace in a runoff heat and then brought in W. F. Cane's favorite a length ahead. The time was 2:06, slower than the 2:03 2-5 in which the filly won the first heat in another stretch drive.

Poplar Tom, ninth in the first heat, put on a finish in the second that was too much for the favorite from the Good Time Stable, Goshen, N. Y. His time was 2:04.

Ervin drove Our Time's full sister, Good Time, to the Fox victory last year. The first money yesterday was $14,683.

Alemite, the fastest pacer of the harness racing season, is entered in today's $5,000 class 14 stake. The colt, with three heat below 2 minutes this season, figures in three photo finishes in the same stake here last year. He is owned by Octave Black, South Plainfield, N. J., Grand Circuit president.

They're All Alike To Middlecoff

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 8—(AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the national open champion, says he operates on the theory that it's just as tough winning secondary golf tournaments as it is the big ones.

That's why the Lanuy Memphis, Tenn., dentist figures he will have plenty of trouble in the $5,000 Kansas City open.

Middlecoff and about 70 other professionals and a drove of amateurs were to get in their first round on the 6,319-yard par 72 Swope Park course today

Red Birds Idled By Wet Grounds

(By the Associated Press)

Minneapolis took over fourth place in the American Association today, and second place Indianapolis was a full game closer to front running St. Paul.

Veteran Ike Pearson was the winning pitcher in both games as the Millers jumped past idle Columbus with a double victory over Milwaukee, 5-4 and 4-3. The Millers hope to hold the position and get into the four-team playoffs after the regular season ends Sunday.

Indianapolis, meanwhile, handed the Louisville Colonels their ninth straight loss, 7-0, and sixth place Kansas City kept alive its first division hopes by beating league-leading St. Paul 5-4 in 11 innings.

Columbus, kept idle by wet grounds last night, will try for a double win tonight at Toledo.

State to Investigate Racing at Randall

Another Best-Ball Tournament Is Arranged for Golfers Here

A four-man-best-ball tournament golfers in the lower strata has been arranged for the Country Club contingent for next Sunday.

The enthusiasm that was generated among the better golfers of the club by similar one-day tournaments earlier in the season led Tony Capuana, the club pro, to put on Sunday's event for the not-so-hot players.

Only golfers with handicaps of 13 or higher are eligible for the coming battle of the fairways—and roughs.

Ervin (Rip) Van Winkle, Ben Wright and Lowell Miller were put on the committee in charge. Capuana is to lend the guiding know-how.

Already six teams have been made up and entered. Others are expected to get into the competition before the first foursome tees off at 1:30 P. M.

It costs each golfer $1—that's the entry fee—to get in the tourney, but they all will have a chance to get that back.

The winning teams are to get half of the entry fee pot in cash and each member of the second place team is to get two golf balls as his reward.

Just to add a little spice to the affair, a prize of two golf balls has been put up for the blind bogey winner. A similar prize awaits the holder of the low score.

Here are the teams entered to date:

Dick Korn, Kenneth Fudge, John O'Connor and Marion (Dutch) Rife;

Don Denton, Lowell Miller, Bud Schlue and Heber Minton;

Darrell Thornton, Harold Hyer, Bob Miller and Jim Cooper;

Austin Wise, Ben Wright, Eugene McClain and Fred Enslin;

Jack Hagerty, Joe Waddle, Ed Cullen and Duke Bireley.

Jim Grinstead, Rip Van Winkle, Carl Kestner, Jr., and Don King.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, Lily Williams; secretary, Jeanne Cummings; treasurer, Georgiabelle Creamer and sergeant-at-arms, Jean Palmier.

President Anderson then appointed the executive board, which included Lois Poole, Mary Noon, Ruth Lynch, Marjorie Rea, Gail Pollock, Florence Cook, Judy Wackman and Belva Hicks.

A prize committee was then appointed, consisting of Dorothy Fudge, Gladys Sexton and Myrtle Hicks.

$220,000 In Purses Is Distributed To Grand American Trapshooters

By FRITZ HOWELL
VANDALIA, Sept. 8—(AP)—They called it the "Golden Grand"—and that's just what it was!

The auditors finished figuring today on the recently-completed nine-day 50th Grand American Trapshoot, and the prize payoff was practically preposterous.

Ray E. Loring, manager of the Amateur Trapshooting Association since the early 30's, announced that about $220,000 in purses had been distributed to the 1800 Dead-Eye-Dicks and Doras who competed this year.

The big winner was Ohmer Webb of Washington D. C., who broke 100 straight to capture the 100-clay preliminary handicap. Webb, with the only perfect score in the event, dragged down $5442 for his 40 minutes of shooting.

For the first time in a half-century the feature event, the Grand American Handicap, wound up in a perfect-score tie. That cut down the first place payoff to some extent, but Pete Donat of Antwerp, O., and J. W. Sondeman of Lima, O., picked up checks of $5281.25 each.

Probably the hard-luck guy of the whole affair was Roger Dell, the crackshot attorney from Ferguson Falls, Minn. In the preliminary handicap he broke 99 of 100 targets—and the lone miss cost him plenty of cash.

He had to settle for the second place $500 in the regular purse, instead of $1000; picked up $3.40 instead of $14.50 on the first event where he had his miss; got $31.50 instead of the $136.00 which went to those who broke the first 50; lost out entirely on the $2 optional which paid $960 for 100 straight, and failed to get any of the five "Ford purses" which paid off at $770.50 each.

Dell didn't think too much of his chances in the big handicap, so he didn't risk $10 in the optional race on the total score. Had he entered that bit of unique wagering system he would have picked up another $1342.50. Dell's two mistakes—the missed target and the failure to get into the $10 option—cost him at least $3000.

The marksmen, gathered from all parts of the western hemisphere, fired 1,105,300 shells in actual competition. That means 44,212 boxes at around $1.75 each, or some $80,000 for ammunition—not counting the thousands of boxes used in practice and shoot-offs.

Entry fees alone—not counting the optional wagering systems in which the shooters bet on their own ability against the field—amounted to $136,926, of which about $75,000 was poured into the two big handicaps in which more than 1600 fired.

Sondeman and Donat made clean sweeps of the top spots in the Grand American, each winning these prizes: First $25, 18; second 25, $15 third 25, $11.50; fourth 25, $14.25; first 50, $224; second 50, $134.50; regular guaranteed purse, $1250; $2 optional on total, $553; $10 optional on total, $924; Ford purses (high for each 25-target event), $2137.50, or $5281.25 each.

Donat won the shootoff and grabbed the big trophy, the championship, and a huge set of silver.

The ATA will pick up a profit on the 40-odd tons of lead pellets sprayed in front of the traps by the roaring shotguns. The lead is mined every three years with a machine which resembles a thresher. It picks up the top two inches of ground, shreds it and tosses out everything but the shot.

The champion is to get a $300 cut of the pot, the second place team is to get $200 and the show outfit $100.

Drakes To Play At Greenfield

14-Team Tourney Now Under Way

The champions of the Recreation Softball League here today were getting ready to carry their bid for recognition into broader fields.

The Drakes, who finished the regular schedule here at the top of the heap and then went on to win the double-elimination tournament with a shutout victory over the Hughey post of the American Legion are going to tangle with the Welfare Finance outfit at Greenfield Friday night.

The game will mark the Drakes' entry into the Greenfield Invitational Tournament against 13 other teams from this section.

The Greenfield tourney got under way Tuesday night and will continue on a two-a-night basis until the champion is decided in the grand finale. The date of the climax will be determined by the progress of tournament play which, in turn, is dependent to a considerable degree on the weather.

The Drakes, whose home ballpark is around Atlanta, are slated to meet the Welfare Financiers at 7:30 P. M. Friday.

Their next opponents, if they survived their first tilt, will be determined by the outcome of the other first round games.

The 14 teams entered in the Greenfield tourney will be battling for both glory and cash in the purses made up from the entry fees.

The champion is to get a $300 cut of the pot, the second place team is to get $200 and the show outfit $100.

Jorgensen and Stanky Get in Scrap on Field

BROOKLYN, Sept. 8—(AP)—Brooklyn's Spider Jorgensen and the Boston Braves' Eddie Stanky nursed slight injuries today resulting from the liveliest field skirmish of the major league season.

At the same time they waited to see what action President Ford Frick might take on the flareup of tempers and the bit of fist swinging that popped up in the fifth inning of the game last night at Ebbets Field.

Jorgensen tangled with Stanky's spikes as he slipped into second base trying to break up a double play. The double play was completed but Jorgensen came up swinging. Later he said he thought Stanky came down on him with his spikes intentionally.

Players and coaches rushed out on the field and for a while it appeared there might be a real fracas.

But the two antagonists were parted without too serious damage and were hauled from the field by players. Stanky was lugged off by the heels by Gil Hodges.

Brooklyn first baseman. Plate Umpire Babe Pinelli made their departure official. He banished the two players from the game.

Punishment Coming

Today Pinelli and third base umpire Scotty Robb are expected to make their report to Frick. More punitive action may be forthcoming although the fight was regarded as a mild one.

Both Jorgensen and Stanky insisted neither landed a blow. Stanky later went by Jorgensen's dressing room and said he was sorry it happened.

"It was just one of those things," Stanky said. "I threw my glove away and he hit me."

Jorgensen said he thought Stanky spiked him intentionally and he got sore. "We had been the best of friends," he added.

"This is just a case of the last season fever pitch," one club official said. "I don't think either player should be penalized too much. It wasn't much of a fight."

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

TERRY said, "Oh, oh, something like that, once. He sold out, went to Chicago and had a finger in various pies. Then he retired altogether. They go to Asheville in spring and autumn, to Florida in winter, or sometimes take a cruise." She added, "Chris, will you be bored?"

"Possibly. But don't be upset by the prospect. I shall sing for my supper."

They dressed and went down for cocktails. The pearls were like cream around Terry's young throat, the emerald on her hand a deep, angry green.

The dining table had been reduced to its smallest proportions, but even so the four people seated at it seemed very far apart. Mrs. Cotter was laced into something black, sprigged over with sunbonnets, and Mr. Cotter in his dinner coat wheezed hospitably.

After dinner they had a brandy on the terrace and sat out there. Mrs. Cotter with a wool coat over her shoulders and Terry with her mink cape about her, and listened to the sea sighing, advancing and retreating. And Chris thought with a sudden nostalgia of the Pacific. This too was quite an ocean, but it wasn't his ocean.

The Cotters were so interested in the Islands. They had been there once, before Pearl Harbor, staying only a week between ships at the Royal. They had, they believed, met Chris's parents.

He made the correction. "My aunt and uncle perhaps," he said. "Oh? Well, at a wonderful party, a sort of native feast..."

"A luau," he said patiently. He could imagine it, given for the visitors, complete with palms and hulas and the hostess wearing a hokuluku.

Now Audrey could remember who had given the party. "People named Peterson," she had told him; "they had a wonderful house on Diamond Head."

He said he knew it well. He did. He could close his eyes and walk through every room in it. But there was one room he'd avoid—not a room, but a lanai looking over the bright waters, haunted by a ghost he'd rather not meet.

But Terry was saying, "Of course we'd love to play." She rose, as Mrs. Cotter did and Chris came to his feet. He felt bewildered. "He had been a great many miles away, and a number of years. He had been twenty-two again, miserable, and in love..."

Terry pinched him as they followed the Cotters indoors. "Where were you?" she demanded. "Audrey asked twice if we wanted to play contract."

He said, "I sometimes suffer from amnesia." Luckily, they cut each other as partners. They'd played before, and knew themselves a formidable team. Terry played an intelligent, calculated game. Mark Austin had taught him. Chris almost always held good cards and played with a wild sort of intuition. Together they were brilliant. The Cotters were not, and the Russells won. The stakes were low enough, a tenth of a cent. "I," said Chris, firmly when asked what stakes, "am a miser, miser, and no gambler." This was as meretricious as anything he'd ever said, but the Cotters were pleased, it showed the right attitude. Cotter himself regarded inherited means with something that wavered between contempt and envy. He had come by his money the hard way.

Then they were getting ready for bed.

"Profit," said Chris, counting the gains; "not much but 'twill serve. We'll get through this yet, darling. Provided we always cut each other. We have to save a margin for losses, those we'll suffer when we cut lesser partners."

She was listening. "What if they do take a trip to the Islands?"

"Who? Oh, the Cotters. Well, I'll ask you. What if they do?"

"You are very lavish," she said, sitting on the edge of her bed, "with your Uncle Hugo's hospitality!"

"Why not? He is hospitable, when it comes to friends of the family, after a little editing and research."

"But what happens—in case? There must be other people you've asked or had to ask."

"A few. The Johnsons of course. You know how it is. If you ever come to the Islands," I say...

"But what happens?"

"It's never come up before, aside from West Coast classmates. You don't understand the Russells, dear. No matter how much they dislike me, or hate me, I'm a member of the clan. So my guests are their guests. And they don't go up to them and yell in their faces. Did you know that poor Chris has no money, none at all, owing to the poor judgment of his father?"

No. Naturally, should the strangers stray out of the preserve they might meet up with someone, not in the family, who would be delighted to inform them. Come to think of it, though, we're related to half the people who, as the saying goes, count."

He walked over, sat down beside her and took her in his arms. "Let's worry about it when the time comes," he suggested.

She said tremulously, "They're awfully sweet to us."

"I know. Even to lending me golf clubs, tennis rackets, and the rest of it, even to promising to find a decent horse, if I want to ride, or to putting the little car at our disposal if we want to go off by ourselves."

"I didn't realize," Terry said, "that it would make me feel so..."

awful. I had twinges in Palm Beach but not to this extent."

"I told you I'd sing for my supper. You will too. You will be both useful and decorative. We'll earn our bed and board and whatever else goes with it. You'll see. Now kiss me and shut up."

In a sense, she did see. People came calling upon the Cotters who had not called before. The Cotters and their charming guests were asked, and frequently, to dinner, to cocktails, to dance, to swimming shindies. The Cotters were quite beside themselves with simple joy. Their servants came and went, and Audrey was in a furor most of the time, but the show went on. The Cotters gave parties and went to them. And they were not living in any temporary dream world either, as Chris told Terry.

He said, "They're swell people, Terry. After we've departed they'll still be in demand because people will have found how swell."

It was July by now, and they had been on Long Island for several weeks. And Terry said plaintively, "We are never alone, except at night."

"Do not belittle—" he began, and she flushed and threw a pillow at him.

"Except when we are dressing," she went on, "or resting or something. Chris, I swear to you, this must be harder work than being behind a counter!"

He looked at her oddly. "You're finding that out? I suppose it is; I've often thought so. Yet I prefer it."

"Being amiable," she said dreamily. "That dreadful old man, the other night. He's a pincher, but he's important to the Cotters."

"Shall I hunt him up and knock his teeth out?"

"Devere. No, you're not in a position to do that."

"He said, 'I'm not worried, although I've guessed correctly the gentleman owns most of the real estate in Manhattan and is twice widowed.'"

"He said," Terry told him, "that he adores brides, they were so starchy eyed and sweet."

"Next time we meet him I must remember to fix it so that he sees a few stars," Chris answered.

After a moment she said, "I suppose we are earning our way..."

"Yes. And not doing too badly—at contract and, on my part, at golf. It all counts up, we can bank on the monthly checks against our flight to the Pacific and still exit with graceful gestures toward the hired help!"

He added, "And when do we exit?"

"You are getting bored?"

"Darling, a very little. Is it showing?"

ANNOUNCEMENTS

OBITUARY

Etta Wain, daughter of Joshua and Rosa Ann Smith Wain, was born near New Martinsburg, Fayette County, Ohio on October 11, 1868. She departed this life at Great Harpersburg on August 29, 1949 at the age of 80 years, 10 months and 18 days. Her entire life was spent on the farm where she was born.
There remains to mourn her departure one brother, J. B. Wain, of New Martinsburg; three sisters, Emma, at home, Mrs. Etta Marshall of Leesburg, and Mrs. Elva Hoyer of Centerfield; and several nieces, nephews, grand-nieces and grand-nephews.
Her wants were few, her needs elemental and though her sphere of influence may not have been so wide, yet kindly all who came in contact with her kindly spirit there will ever remain the memory of one who loved to serve, who shared her talents in brightening the lives of others. To nurse the sick, to visit the sorrowing, to spread cheer among her family and friends was the goal of her life.
To us it seems her life has closed, yet our faith is strong in the belief that she has stepped into the brightness of that Eternal Day to be greeted by those well-known words:
"Well done: Good and faithful servant. Thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."
Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

Moats Herefords Win First at Fair

Besides being the same in the bank, the 20 yearling Hereford steers John Moats & Son of near Mt. Sterling bought at a sale in Washington, C. H. last fall, brought them considerable satisfaction and prestige as feeders.

The steers today hold the distinction of being the best carload lot shown at the Ohio State Fair—they won first prize in that class.

The Moats 20 yearlings were judged best of breed and grand champions of the Fair. They weighed approximately 1,000 pounds each when they entered the show.

Man Bound Over On Bad Check Charge

Lawrence K. Millstead, on a charge of giving worthless checks, was taken before Justice of the Peace, S. P. Ludwick, in custody of Sheriff Orland Hays, Thursday, and held to the grand jury under $100 bond, which he furnished. Sheriff Hays said he was holding two bad checks, one for $10 and another for $39.

er of the federal administration.

Republicans gleefully picked up the word in attacking the Democratic administration.

Recently Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, lashed out against "statism" in a speech which some Democrats thought sounded very much like Republican political talk.

As generally defined by Republicans, statism describes a government which is reaching out for more power over the lives of the people.

Lucas said no one has lost any liberties under the Democratic program. "In fact," he added, "the great benefits have brought more happiness and contentment."

Senator Thomas (D-Utah) said a catch-phrase isn't likely to be very effective in ousting Democrats from the government. "The country isn't in danger of statism as long as the federal government has its checks and balances," he observed.

Michael J. Dempsey Is Called by Death

Michael J. Dempsey, 76, died in University Hospital in Columbus at 5:30 A. M. Thursday following a second operation in a week.

Mr. Dempsey had been in failing health for some time. He entered the hospital two weeks ago and a week ago underwent an operation. His recovery was not as rapid as expected and another operation was performed Wednesday morning.

He was a devout member of St. Colman's Catholic Church where funeral services are to be held at 9:30 A. M. Saturday.

Father Otto F. Guenther, pastor of St. Colman's Church cancelled the Saturday morning catechism for grade school pupils, but said they would be resumed the following week.

Mr. Dempsey was a native of Clinton County, but had lived virtually his entire life in Washington, C. H. He was connected with the Hagerty Shoe Co. here for 51 years where he rose to the position of foreman. Later he went to the Red Cross Shoe Co. plants in Chillicothe and then Greenfield as foreman. He retired several months ago.

He was a member of the Eagles Lodge and had friends all over the county.

He is survived by his widow, a son, Robert Dempsey of Washington, C. H. and a daughter, Mrs. Mary K. Muntchel of Cincinnati. He also leaves an extensive family connection of more distant relatives in addition to three brothers, William of Columbus, Thomas of Dayton and Alfred of Cincinnati.

The Saturday morning funeral services at the church will be followed by interment in the family lot in St. Colman's Cemetery here. Friends may call at the Gerstner Funeral Home after 6 P. M. Thursday.

Catechism Classes Cancelled for Funeral

Catechism classes at St. Colman's Catholic Church were cancelled for next Saturday morning by Father Otto F. Guenther because of the funeral mass for Michael Dempsey who died Thursday morning at University Hospital in Columbus.

Father Guenther said the Catechism classes for grade school pupils would be resumed on regular schedule Sept. 17.

Sever-Williams Low Bidders On Hospital

The Sever-Williams Co. of Washington, C. H. appeared to be low bidder on the general contract for the 65-bed Clinton Memorial Hospital at Wilmington.

The builders of the Fayette Memorial Hospital submitted a bid of $484,400 on the Clinton County job.

This is about $46,000 below the low bid the first time bids were opened and then renegotiated, drawing seven contractors this time, it was said.

Several days are expected to pass before the contract is let, however, since costs must be tabulated by architects, and approved by the trustees and state officials.

The bids totaled $742,000 and do not include loose equipment, architects' fees or alternate plans.

It is reported that $870,000 is available for the construction and equipping of the hospital.

German Parliament

Communists a cue:

"There are deputies sitting here who voted for that law," shouted Max Reimann, west German Red leader.

An unexpected rift developed between the CDU and its twin Christian Socialist Union (CSU), the latter group accusing the CDU of reneging on its support of Dr. Hans Ehard, CSU chairman, for president of the Bundesrat (upper House).

Instead, CDU votes helped to award the presidency to Karl Arnold, CDU minister president of the Ruhr state of north Rhine-Westphalia.

Mt. Sterling Man Facing Charges

Sheriff Orland Hays Wednesday evening arrested Lawrence Hosler, Mt. Sterling on a charge of obtaining property under false pretense. He was to be arraigned before Justice of the Peace S. P. Ludwick sometime Thursday.

Sheriff Hays said. Hosler's arrest came after he is alleged to have gone to the Goodsell Bros. paint and wallpaper store on East Court Street, and purchased $38.10 worth of paint, signing the name of Wilbur Kier to obtain the paint.

Stanley Sanders, employee of the store, became suspicious and followed the man and obtained his auto license number, which led to Hosler's arrest. Sanders identified Hosler as the man to whom he had sold the paint.

The paint was not recovered, but Hosler offered to pay for the paint to avoid prosecution, Sheriff Hays said.

Pipeline Outfit To Leave Soon

Steel Shortage Stops Pipeline Work Here

Associated Pipeline workers will soon bid Washington, C. H. adieu and head for Arcadia, La., it was reported today.

They will leave the big 26-inch Texas Eastern Transmission Company loop pipeline unfinished but may return next spring and establish headquarters here again.

Main body of some 250 pipeline workers moved out of here recently when a steel shortage shut off the supply of pipe.

A. B. Johnson, office manager for the pipeline outfit, said there were still about 50 workers of various types still left in Fayette County.

He said it would be another ten days or so before the rest of the pipeline company men move out.

Johnson said the company is in the midst of moving about 20 carloads of heavy pipe laying equipment to Louisiana now.

"We'll just get in on the duck season down there," Johnson said, referring to his impending trip to the Southland.

"But we'll miss out on the pheasant season around here," he added.

Speeder Arrested By State Patrol

Indications are that, with two state highway patrolmen stationed in Washington, C. H., many more arrests of traffic violators will be made in this community. One of these indications came late Wednesday, when State Highway Patrolman John Wyatt, arrested Eddie Robins, 27, of Newport, Ky., who was driving in excess of 78 miles per hour on the CCC highway south of Mt. Sterling.

In Mayor Harry Jenk's court at Mt. Sterling, Robins posted $25 bond for his appearance.

Mrs. Nancy Sickles Dies in Gallipolis

Mrs. Elmer Wolfe, 636 West Market Street, has been notified of the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. Nancy Sickles, 73, at the Holzer Hospital in Gallipolis Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 P. M. Friday at the Bethel Church in Jackson, with burial to follow at the Bethel Cemetery. The body will remain at the Sterry Funeral Home in Jackson until time for the services.

She is survived by her daughter, two sons, Homer Sickles of Ray and Harmon Sickles of Jackson County, and two brothers: Robert and Rufus Morris of near Beaver. Her husband preceded her in death.

Drivers Arrested And One Is Fined

Albert J. Smith, Dayton, arrested on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with a fictitious license, was fined $25 and costs by Police Court Justice R. H. Sites, Wednesday evening.

Frederick M. Burns, truck driver, was taken into custody on a charge of making excessive noise, and posted $25 bond for his appearance. He forfeited the bond.

Burns was the first truck driver arrested for several days. Chief Vaiden Long said the drive against noisy trucks will be continued indefinitely.

Fire Damage Slight At Wilson School

Fire started by a "short" in the electric wiring in one of the class rooms at the Wilson School in Union Township, Wednesday afternoon, was the signal for Principal Wilson Webb to evacuate the school building of all pupils until the danger was over.

When the fire was discovered, a call was made to the fire department here and firemen went to the scene armed with hand extinguishers. The fire had been extinguished before they reached the building.

One of the pupils discovered that electric wiring used for a radio, had burned in two, and light fixtures were allowed to drop from the ceiling to the floor.

A shelf was damaged but the fire was confined to the wiring and shelf, and no damage of consequence done. The wiring had come in contact with metal Chief George Hall said, and the "short" resulted.

While he was at the building, Chief Hall inspected other wiring about the structure and found it in good condition.
